

Kansas School, Integrated Only 4 Years, Moves to Oust Extortion Rackets, Weapons

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Authorities moved today to stamp out a lunch money extortion racket and the carrying of lethal weapons by teenagers in Kansas City schools.

Supt. James A. Hazlett, in his second announcement this month, told a faculty meeting at Central Junior High School that he would ask all school principals today to submit lists of pupils known to have been carrying knives or other weapons, or to have been extorting money from other youngsters on school property.

Hazlett said he would then send registered letters to the parents of such students warning that if such offenses are committed again the parents will be forced to answer to the central office why their child should stay in school. Earlier this month, after a pupil at Central struck a gym instructor, Hazlett promised teachers they would be given legal aid in prosecuting such attackers in the courts and the pupils involved would be expelled.

Kansas City Schools are now in their fourth year of integration. Hazlett told the faculty meeting he recognized integration had caused certain problems. Central, formerly an all-white school, now has a 60 per cent Negro enrollment.

Teachers told Hazlett the extortion racket is usually worked by groups of larger boys against a smaller pupil who, through threats of violence, is forced to surrender a nickel or a dime a day of his lunch money. Early this term a pupil at Manual High School was slashed in the abdomen after he refused to pay a nickel to such a gang.

Principal Ray Halley of Central Junior said his office heard of some pupils being so victimized about once every other week.

Hazlett told the faculty members overcrowding was a problem he hoped could be alleviated next year in Central by adjustment of demerol lines between its district and that of Lincoln High School. Lincoln, formerly was an all-Negro school.

War Budget, Says Russia of Ike's Plan

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Press said today President Eisenhower submitted a war budget to Congress.

Pravda, Izvestia and other Moscow morning newspapers gave prompt reaction to the President's budget message under the headline: "Another Arms Race Budget."

Pravda carried a Tass news agency dispatch from Washington stressing military expenditures. It said individual taxpayers must meet 52 per cent of the budget, "while corporations who profit most pay only 27 per cent."

In a dispatch from its Washington correspondent, Izvestia said that "though the budget message weighed four pounds it can be summed up in two words, 'War Budget.'"

Izvestia said it was the man in the street "who must bear the terrific weight of this new tax burden." It added: "This is the way so-called people's capitalism looks."

P. O. Group in No Mood for 5c Stamp

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's proposal for a 5-cent letter stamp appeared headed for trouble in the Senate Post Office Committee today.

Democratic on the committee expressed any enthusiasm for the proposal, included in the President's budget yesterday as a surprise move. Some Republicans also were lukewarm.

The committee now has before it the bill passed last year by the House, with the President's backing, to raise postal rates by 57 million dollars a year, five feature of this was a 5-cent letter stamp replacing the present 3-cent rate.

In his budget message, Eisenhower asked the Senate to change the House bill to make the letter rate 5 cents for city-to-city mail, 6 cents within a city. A bill introduced in this way would bring in about 700 million dollars additional, he said.

Even with the proposed 5-cent stamp, he said, there still would be a deficit if Congress raises pay of the 500,000 postal employees as expected.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.), the committee chairman, said of the 5-cent rate: "I can't see where it can be justified."

Tells How First Red Sputnik Died

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sputnik I—the first Russian earth satellite—broke into eight distinct fragments before its death plunge earlier this month, Ohio State University scientists reported today.

Dr. John Kraus, director of the University's radio telescope, said the breakup started in late December when three distinct parts of the satellite were being tracked. Between Jan. 2 and Jan. 5, these fragments began to split up and by Jan. 6, eight fragments were in orbit, Dr. Kraus said.

By Jan. 7, one of the fragments had disappeared. On Jan. 8 three more fragments were gone, and by Jan. 9 all but one had disappeared. Dr. Kraus said he believes the final fragment fell from its orbit on Jan. 10, which was 98 days after the satellite was launched.

A statement by a Russian scientist reporting the disintegration of Sputnik I on Jan. 4 agrees with the Ohio observations which showed it began to come apart in earnest between Jan. 2 and 5, Dr. Kraus said.

Navy Plane Crashes, Nine Men Killed

PATUXENT, Md. (AP) — A four-engine Super Constellation Navy transport plane crashed while making practice instrument landings at the Patuxent Naval Air Station today.

The Navy said all nine crewmen were killed.

A base spokesman said the plane fell into a wooded area, missing by only a few hundred feet a housing area for married enlisted personnel.

The spokesman said the plane sheared off treetops for a quarter of a mile.

The aircraft was demolished.

Identification of the dead was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Sees Business Upswing Later In The Year

ARKADELPHIA (AP) — The nation is in a mild recession that will give way to a rather sharp business upswing late this year, Murray D. Lincoln, president of the Teetum Corp., said today.

In a speech prepared for delivery tonight climaxing a day-long celebration of the Teetum plant opening here, the Ohio industrialist said "nothing really serious is in the way of a depression in the way of a depression."

Lincoln, whose company manufactures a building material made of wood fiber and chemicals, was the scheduled principal speaker at a community banquet set for 7 p. m. at Henderson State Teachers College.

Bands, fireworks, ribbon-cuttings and speeches will precede the opening of the 100,000 square-foot Teetum plant, that was built on a 40-acre site with an employment potential of 200.

Lincoln said his business forecast for the short-range period ahead foresees a spurt in residential construction about 1960.

But the Teetum president said the long-range business outlook is much more difficult to assess.

Feels Movie Makers Still Underrating TV

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — David Selznick today offered Hollywood an answer to its problems.

"The solution is to pray," he said grimly.

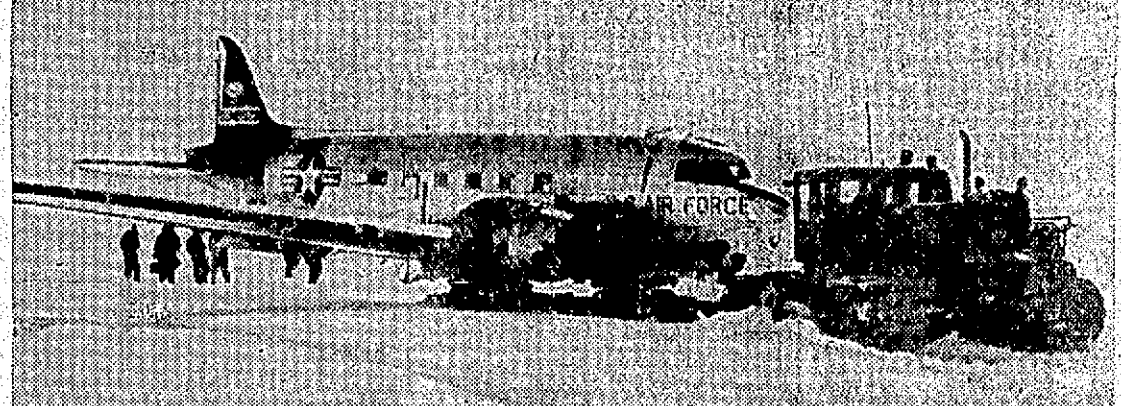

The veteran producer feels too many movie makers still underestimate the extent of the revolution in television inspired in the motion picture industry, and are unprepared for the next revolution—television.

Selznick, who turned out two of the top 10 box office draws in "Gone with the Wind" and "Duel in the Sun," feels he has a candidate for his third Academy Award in "Farewell to Arms." He spent more than four million dollars dramatizing the Ernest Hemingway classic—his first film in nine years.

"Increasingly the future will lie in the big film," said Selznick, who has a long record of big picture successes.

$31,000 Steer Just So Much Steak Today

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — "Honeymoon," the $31,000 Hereford steer that was grand champion of the International Livestock Show at Chicago, was just so much steak today.

He walked the last mile down the slaughter ramp at Armour & Co., yesterday.

The carcass of the steer will hang for two weeks in the freezer, then will be raffled.

The steer was purchased by Arthur Godfrey. He presented it to Oklahoma 4-H Club youths. They in turn gave it to the Cowboy Hall of Fame being constructed here.

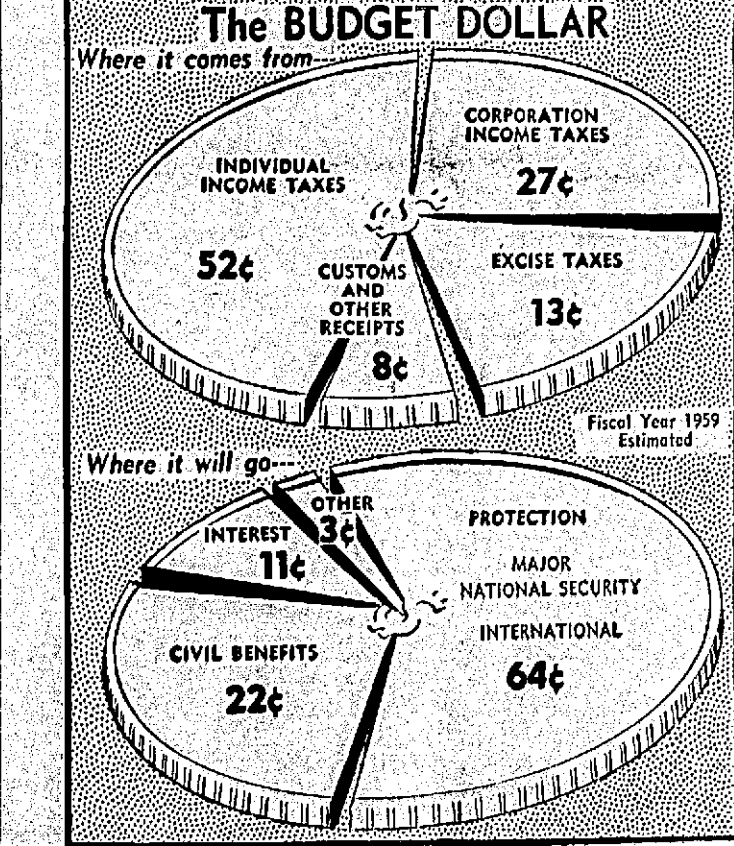

The tanned hide will go into the Hall of Fame museum as the second highest priced steer in U.S. history.

"Honeymoon" was raised by Sue and Pete Secondline of West Terre Haute, Ind., who were going to use the $30-a-pound sale to buy a farm.

Armour officials said that at yesterday's market value the steer would bring 27 or 28 cents a pound. It hasn't been government graded yet.

Charges Filed in Accident Here

An auto driven by M. C. Garamilo of Hope and a truck driven by Johnny D. Slinson collided yesterday at Second and Walnut with fender, front end and door damage to both vehicles. Investigating City Police charged Garamilo with failure to yield the right-of-way and Slinson with operating a vehicle without proper brakes.

THE BUDGET DOLLAR — Where the basic dollar will come from and how it will be spent to finance President Eisenhower's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is shown in Newschart, above. An estimated $74.4 billion in receipts will finance the $73.9 program, and permit of a hoped-for half-billion-dollar surplus at end of the fiscal year.

Since he left the local church, he has pastored in Albuquerque, New Mexico, then became district superintendent of the New Mexico District before becoming pastor of the First Assembly of God at Bartlesville, Okla.

During the seven years that the Holdridge family lived in Hope, they acquired many friends and it is expected that many will want to hear him Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Rev. W. C. Lund, pastor, extends a welcome to the public.

Administration Asks Congress for Increase in National Debt Limit

Ike Will Hit Trouble Over Water Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders told President Eisenhower today the administration may bump into trouble on its proposals to hold back spending on new water resources projects.

Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California reported the leaders' views after their regular weekly meeting with the President.

In reply to a question, Knowland said it would be fair to say that he and his GOP colleagues had put Eisenhower on notice that some lawmakers will complain about the administration's 1958-59 proposals as to reclamation, Eisenhower outlined plans to resources projects.

In his budget message yesterday, Eisenhower outlined plans to bar any new starts on such projects during the fiscal year starting July 1. The President said this should be done to help finance the proposed defense spending program without a tax increase.

Knowland said that despite expected protests in connection with the water resources projects he is confident it will be "the general feeling of Congress and the country that first priority will have to be given to defense."

The legislators also discussed with the President the special message on defense reorganization, which Eisenhower plans to send to Congress soon.

Knowland declined to speculate as to what Eisenhower may recommend. But in reply to a question, he said the Congress members had told the President there is much opposition in Congress to any thought of concentrating authority and direction in the hands of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Knowland declined to report on Eisenhower's reaction.

As for the water resources projects, Knowland said he wanted to emphasize that despite the proposed ban on new starts, more money will be spent on water projects in the next fiscal year than was spent on them during each year of the last decade or so. In his budget message, the President called for continuation of work on 300 projects already under way.

Would Make This a High Court Test

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today was confronted with the unusual situation of a defendant resisting proposed dismissal of a charge against him.

Vernon H. Duncan, 47, was fined $50 and costs in Municipal Court last November in connection with a disturbance outside court-integrated Central High School on Oct. 3.

His attorney, Kenneth C. Coffelt, wants to use the case to get a ruling from the Supreme Court on constitutionality of federal troops being used to enforce integration at the school.

At Coffelt's request, Municipal Judge Harry C. Robinson changed a charge of resisting arrest against Duncan to one of failing to obey an order of a United States Army officer acting at the direction of the president. The judge imposed the fine on this count.

The case now is pending before the Supreme Court after Circuit Judge William H. Kirby rejected a motion of Coffelt that it be dismissed because the charge on which Duncan is fined is not on the city's books.

City Attorney Joe Kemp has asked permission of the Supreme Court to drop the charge. That would mean Duncan wouldn't have to pay the fine. But it also would mean that Coffelt wouldn't get a final ruling.

Coffelt today filed a motion asking that the court not grant Kemp the requested permission. And that's where the case stands now.

Russia Talking About Other Side of Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — "I think we will see what's on the other side of the moon very soon," Prof. G. A. Chebolarev of the Leningrad Institute of Theoretical Astronomy, said today.

"This year will bring us closer to turning purely theoretical calculations into reality," the professor added in an interview published in the newspaper Soviet Russia.

He predicted that Russian scientists would first send a non-guided, unmanned rocket to the moon which would explode on hitting the moon's surface. He said this will provide valuable information about the surface of the moon.

This would be followed by a rocket that would shoot around both the earth and moon in a cigar-shaped orbit and provide information on the moon's surface by television.

$5 Billion Is Asked, US Owes $275 Billion Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lower administration today asked Congress to boost the national debt limit of the national debt to 200 billion dollars.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson asked for the five-billion-dollar boost in letters to Democratic and Republican leaders of the House and Senate and Senate Finance committees.

Those are the committees which would handle such legislation.

Anderson submitted a draft of suggested legislation that would make the increase effective on a temporary basis from the date of enactment through June 30, 1959.

The national debt, subject to the ceiling limitation, stood at $274,250,766,593.28 on Jan. 9, or just less than three-quarters of a billion dollars under the limit.

There had been an indication in message yesterday that the administration would ask for an increase in the ceiling.

Eisenhower's message said that the present limit of 275 billion dollars is too restrictive in view of rising defense expenditures and of the need for more flexibility to permit efficient and economical debt management.

Police Foil Holdup Try In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Police said they shot and captured one Negro, who surrendered and two escaped in the attempted holdup of a liquor store here yesterday. The third robbery reported in a 12-hour period.

Officers said the wounded man identified himself as Theodos Moore, 20, and the other Negro said he was Arluis Smith, 17, both of Little Rock.

Patrolman E. L. Vint said he saw four men run from the Spot Liquor Store as he stopped his police car there.

One bandit dropped his gun and J. E. Bull, the store clerk, picked it up and held the man while Vint chased two others. Vint said he fired five shots, but both escaped.

A fourth man was wounded in the leg when State Troopers Pete Tracy and J. D. Hicks fired at him. Like Vint, the troopers were in the area by chance.

No formal charges have been filed against the two men held in custody.

John T. Turnbow, who operates a small grocery, told police he was robbed for the second time in three weeks. The 73-year-old man said there have been about 10 holdup attempts in his store in the past four years.

He said a Negro man walked in yesterday, grabbed him by the necks, took $100 from him, another $30 to $50 from the cash register and a revolver. Turnbow bought after he was first robbed four years ago.

The bespectacled grocer did not lament the loss of the revolver. "I couldn't hit anybody with it," Turnbow said.

Joe M. Zimmermann, owner of another grocery, reported the

Arkansan Is Indicted on U. S. Charge

Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann of Little Rock said yesterday he had written a 12-part series on the school integration crisis which the New York Herald Tribune syndicate will begin publishing Sunday. Mann was an outspoken critic of Gov. Orval Faubus during the height of the racial controversy.

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Allderman John Wright said the City Council last night upheld the dismissals of City Patrolmen Buddy Crook and J. O. Roberts "for conduct unbecoming an officer." City officials declined to elaborate on the reasons for the dismissals.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas taxpayers' contribution to President Eisenhower's proposed $73,000,000 budget would amount to $326,160,000, Frank Cantrill, managing director of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday. This would be 2 1/2 times the amount Arkansas paid for operation of their state government during the 1956-57 fiscal year, he said.

Arkansan Is Indicted on U. S. Charge

MEMPHIS (AP)—One of Arkansas' "fabulous Florida brothers" was indicted yesterday on a charge of cheating the government out of $301,521 in income tax.

Andrew J. Florida, 51, of nearby Osceola, Ark., is accused of evading income taxes on $700,000 from 1951 to 1953. His brother, George, 55, is not mentioned in the 10-count indictment.

Charged with helping in preparation of false tax returns was the wealthy businessman's former accountant and Memphis office manager, Aubrey E. Scott, 56.

Andrew Florida has extensive interests in real estate, insurance and banking. Conviction on all counts of the charges could carry a maximum punishment of 50 years in prison and a $100,000 fine.

The indictment said Andrew "knowingly attempted to evade and defeat" a large part of income and excess profits taxes by concealing his interest and keeping false records of six different corporations.

In Little Rock, Leon Catlett, lawyer for Andrew Florida, declined comment until he confers with his client. He said Andrew is ill at home with a "heart ailment."

Investigation of the case has been underway for months. The indictment came at the last legal minute. The statute of limitations exempting the defendants from prosecution would have covered one count Wednesday and another Jan. 25.

Signs Army to Try to Close Spa Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is every indication that the Army again is planning to try to shut down Army-Navy Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark.

President Eisenhower's budget recommendations to Congress yesterday showed no breakdown in the Army's budget to indicate provisions for maintaining the hospital. But Rep. Norrell (D-Ark.) said Pentagon officials told him that the recommendations included $1,004,500 for maintenance and operation of the Hot Springs facility.

The indication that the Army would seek to close the hospital was contained in the language for new bills which will be submitted to Congress. A figure or proviso printed in brackets—as in case of the proviso for Army-Navy Hospital—indicates that the figure or proviso will not be in the new bill.

Norrell said that, as in past years, he will fight to insert the proviso in the new appropriation bill. The Army has contended the hospital is not needed while Norrell has maintained the patient load of a hospital is what the Army chooses to make it.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), who also has fought to keep the hospital in operation, said some time ago that if the Army again tries to close it, he will introduce a measure to have the property transferred to the state of Arkansas.

3 Children Die in Newport Duplex Fire

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Three small children died yesterday in a fire which heavily damaged their duplex apartment here.

Mrs. Lloyd Ross, who was restrained by a neighbor from dashing into the burning apartment for her children, said she had left the youngsters alone momentarily while she visited a next-door neighbor.

Flames already were leaping from the roof when she returned, the mother said.

James H. Eady, who lived in the adjoining apartment, kept Mrs. Ross from going back into the blazing apartment. He said he then tried to enter but was forced back by the heat.

The dead were Billy Don, 4; Linda, 2; and Danny, 1. Mrs. Ross' three other children—Bobby, 10; Alfred, 8; and Sammy, 7—were in school at the time of the Union Plan Would Cut Into U. S. Taxes

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON — Government experts said today any big spread through industry of plans to share profits with workers would cut deeply into federal tax revenue and probably require sharp changes in taxing policy.

That was their private reaction to word from Detroit that the United Auto Workers have proposed that auto producers split a major share of profits before taxes with workers and customers. They said profits thus distributed to workers would not be taxed, as they are now, at the 52 per cent corporate rate but at the much lower individual income rate — around 15 per cent or less in auto worker income brackets, allowing for deductions.

If the plan were adopted in the auto industry and spread widely among other industries, the result could lead to reducing federal revenues by billions of dollars. Corporate income taxes now yield about 20 billion dollars a year. In turn, the government would have either to reduce spending or to boost tax rates somewhere along the line.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, announced the union will push the profit-sharing plan in its midyear auto industry negotiations. He said that if it had been in effect the past decade some 500,000 General Motors Corp. workers could have pocketed an additional $600 a year.

That would have meant 300 million dollars a year in profits distributed to the workers. They would have paid perhaps 45 million of it to the government in individual income taxes. But in keeping it, the company would have paid about 156 million in taxes at the corporate rate.

"In other words a dollar of profit distributed to workers costs the employer 48 cents," one expert said.

The UAW proposed that for "companies in a more favored economic position," all profits above 10 per cent on net capital before taxes be shared this way: half to the company for stockholders sent the program, "Life's Highway to Heaven." Special numbers were given by Peggy McCorkle, Valdene and Vivian Tomlinaker, Neva McClellan, and Betty Rowe, Darlene Braden and Polly McCorkle.

DOROTHY DIX

Boy, Tied to Mom's Apron, Can't Produce Wedding Ring

Dear Dorothy Dix: Frank and I have been engaged for five years, and are no nearer the altar now than when he put the diamond on my finger. Although he has a good job he can't save a cent. Why, because Mum gets his pay envelope and gives him an allowance. She told him he could keep all his money for one year before he married, but every time he tells her the time is now, she has hysterics and laments that she's a poor old, forsaken woman. (In truth, she is a chipper, attractive perfectly healthy gal of 46, with a good husband and three younger children.) I have a reputation for patience, but I'm afraid it's been worn thin. I love Frank, but don't fancy myself in the role of an eternally engaged girl.

Dear Meg: Frank undoubtedly loves you, too, but his fear of mama is stronger than love. It's time for action, dear. Deliver an ultimatum — either a wedding ring or Mamma's apron strings. If he obeys the latter and I'm willing to bet he will, hand back the diamond. When a selfish mother gets her grapplehook into a docile son, she sets up the worst sort of enslavement known. The poor boy pays for his filial devotion with a lifetime of servitude. If he does manage to marry, his wife shares the shackles. If Frank really wants to marry you, he can do it, but it will take more initiative than he seems to have. You want to marry while you're young; tell him to stop stalling and get into action. Buck him up, pep him up, and you might get satisfactory results.

Dear Dorothy Dix: How can I win a boy I like? He smiles and winks at me when he passes — but that's it. He's told some of our friends he loves me. Where do I go from here? KIM
Dear Kim: Send a self-addressed stamped envelope for my leaflet, "The Way To A Boy's Heart." Don't put too much stock in the boy's statement to your friends. You really must know people before you can love them.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm partly engaged to a boy in the army. I'm only 17 and miss dating. Would it hurt any if I dated other boys while he's away? STAR
Dear Star: "Partly engaged" is a new terminology. Either you are or you aren't. If you are (and you shouldn't be) dating is out; otherwise, the field is wide open; play it. Be sure to let the absent boy friend know what you're doing. Dear Dorothy Dix: A few days ago a friend gave a shower for my sister. Only ladies were invited. One guest signed her gift card "Mrs. P. — only." Has the good-manners book changed or should men be invited to showers? I had always thought this a peculiarly feminine form of socializing.

MARIANNE
Dear Marianne: To tell the truth, showers undergo so many changes so rapidly that I wouldn't be at all surprised to see them become masculinized, too. You are right, according to the latest information I can garner. Showers are for ladies, and Mrs. P. was undoubtedly rude.

business. "The next revolution will be pay TV, when a picture may take in as much as a million dollars in a single night. And theater owners, instead of fighting pay TV, as they did free TV, had better start moving in on it now to get their share. Otherwise, they'll suffer greatly."

Selznick, at 29, was executive vice president of RKO Studio and grinding out about a picture a week. He has made about 40 films since becoming an independent producer. "After I decided the assembly line stuff was nonsense," he says he now has two things in mind when he considers making a new film: "First, will it have worldwide appeal; and, second, is it something I can really do? You have to love something before you can do it well."

Selznick believes the public has little knowledge of the international aspects of the movie making now. "Too many people don't know that the motion picture industry would evaporate if it weren't for the foreign markets," he said. "You have to aim at Tokyo as well as Tinseltown."

Selznick feels the public is hungry for new favorites, and there will never be as many stars as the public is willing to support. "There are many skeletons in this field, but few stars," he said. "The personalities come and go, but it isn't more than once a year that a true star emerges, one who will endure for 20 or 30 years—the real test of stardom."

It has been estimated that the world public has paid more than a billion dollars to see Selznick's pictures. Chary of naming the greatest stars active today—"after all I have to deal with these

Actress Jayne Mansfield Is Married

By JAMES BACON

PORTUGUESE BEACH, Calif. — Jayne Mansfield, who yearned for a quiet wedding, was married last night to Mickey Hargitay with all the hoopla of a Fourth of July picnic.

Some 1,500 fans, mostly teenagers, but some adults carrying babies in arms, surrounded and shouted outside the Wayfarers' Chapel during the most tender moments of the non-denominational rites.

Someone even bounced a rock off the top of the all-glass church while photographers, who nearly outnumbered guests, kept banging their cameras against the glass walls.

Just as Jayne and Mickey were whispering their "I do's," more than 100 teen-agers stormed up a step hill shouting like a Starline landing party, but a cordon of police pushed them back. Jayne, looking sexy yet demure, said she never heard the yelling. "All I heard was Mickey saying 'I do,'" she smiled.

Bob Hope, who witnessed the wedding, officiated, and actress Marie Windsor were the only Hollywood names who traveled the 30 miles to this remote and lonely site by the Pacific Ocean. "I feel wonderful," said the husky Hungarian-born bridegroom, "although I was sitting on needles most of the time."

The wedding was scheduled for 4 p. m. but it was 4:15 before the voluptuous bride started down the aisle. She had spent a good 20 minutes posing for photographers on her arrival—even before changing into the 12 yards of pink Brussels lace that was her wedding gown.

After the rites, Jayne and Mickey returned to the church and posed at the altar for the regiment of photographers. "I love you, I love you," the two cooed to each other as flash bulbs popped like fireworks. Jayne's dress was so form-fitting it looked as if it was painted on her. One photographer asked her to ascend to the top step of the altar but she had to decline. "If I took that step, the dress would spill wide open," she apologized.

When she finally left the church, she spied her daughter by a previous marriage, 7-year-old Jayne Marie. The tired little girl was a little bewildered by all the fuss. "I wanted to make Jayne my flower girl," said the bride, "but I didn't think it would be right for a second marriage."

The 28-year-old bridegroom and his 24-year-old bride took off for International Airport to board a plane for Dallas, Tex.

"I wanted the reception to be in my home town," she said, "because I wanted the first wedding cake I cut to be the one mama baked."

Her mother, Mrs. Harry L. Peers, served as Jayne's matron of honor.

METALWORKING America's Greatest Industry

Manufacturers' sales in the metalworking industry again set a record in 1957. That was 140 billion dollars in 1957. That was 4.8 per cent above the previous record — 1956's $133,538,000,000. Ordinance is not included because the government does not reveal figures on it. But the classification accounts for only a small part of production for defense. Many defense items fall under other classifications, such as transportation equipment or instruments. Data are from the Office of Business Economics, U. S. Department of Commerce, with 1957 estimated by Steel Magazine.

Disney's Folly Has Turned Into Success

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Now that the 10 millionth visitor has passed through the gates of Disneyland, Walt Disney can afford to be satisfied with the figures in the first 2½ years of operation.

"Disney's Folly" has turned into a roaring success. Critics had said too much money was being sunk into an amusement park far away from metropolitan centers. Time has proved that people will come from everywhere to the park from 65 countries, in fact.

No has the place proved to be merely for the kiddies, as was predicted. Adults outnumber children 3½ to 1. The average amount spent by visitors is $2.61, including parking, admission, rides and souvenirs.

The publicity value of Disneyland cannot be denied. Of course, virtually all the film stars with children have been there. But it is also a mecca for visiting VIPs. The King of Morocco was so intrigued on his official visit there that the group of Russians will be the first to visit American schools.

The Comparative Education Society is a group of 400 scholars from the United States and abroad.

Under terms of the agreement, made in Moscow last Dec. 24, a group of American educators will tour Soviet schools next August and September.

THE FEDERAL BUDGET

SHOOTING FOR A BALANCED BUDGET — Although increased expenditures to counteract Russia's missile threat and a business downturn may result in a deficit of some $400 million dollars at the end of the present fiscal year, President Eisenhower looks ahead to a half-billion-dollar surplus in fiscal 1959. Newschart, above, shows proposed expenditures totaling $73.9 billion dollars in fiscal '59, estimated receipts of $74.4 billion dollars, and a hoped-for, half-billion-dollar surplus. Freight Details in Missouri

THAYER, Mo. (AP)—A Frisco freight train derailed today about 32 cars left the rails. There were no known injuries. The freight, No. 133, en route from Kansas City to Memphis had almost reached the Missouri-Arkansas border in south-central Missouri when the accident occurred. A lot of trackage was torn up, the spokesman said.

Cause of the derailment was unknown. The Frisco's main line passenger train from Kansas City to Memphis had to be rerouted over Mo., to Hoxie, Ark.

Congress to Take Careful Look at Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) said today Congress is going to take a careful look at President Eisenhower's $73,000,000,000 budget to determine whether it is adequate to strengthen the nation's security.

"The question to ask about any budget is whether it is the right size to do the job that must be done," the Senate Democratic leader said in a statement. "This is the frame of mind in which Congress and the American people will approach the budget that has been sent to us today."

"It will be analyzed thoroughly. And Congress will attempt to determine whether it is adequate to strengthen the nation's security and sustain the nation's welfare. There will be conflicting judgments as to its adequacy and these judgments will have to be weighed carefully after all the facts are gathered."

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee called the new budget a carbon copy of budgets of the past few sessions, with changes only in the numbers and the dates.

"All of the increase for national defense," he said, "is fully justified and will have the support of Congress, but there are some minor items which can be criticized. The balance is too thin and Congress will have to try to reduce some of the spending to make certain there will not be a deficit."

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts said he hoped it will be possible to keep the budget in balance.

"Much, of course, depends upon the spending of Congress and also upon the extent of tax receipts," Martin said. "If business

Slight Man Living Life of a Hermit

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — A shabby, diminutive man with a New England accent, who told police he had been living in a hollow log near here for the past month, was kept in jail today while officers tried to figure out his story.

Sheriff Ernest C. Dykes said two rabbit hunters stumbled upon the bearded "hermit" last week and reported that he ordered them away from his shelter near the White River, about one mile from downtown Newport.

Dykes said that when he investigated last weekend the man was clean shaven but still dressed in an old sweat shirt and nondescript trousers.

The man, height 5-1, identified himself as Norbert Laroche and told officers his parents live at Fall River, Mass.

The sheriff said Laroche gave his age as 24 but looked about 10 years older.

"I can't get any sense out of him," Dykes said. "He claims he came here because the climate is more healthful and he could think clearer in the outdoors." Laroche told officers he had been in Little Rock before coming to Newport. Previous to that Laroche's story, doesn't make sense, the sheriff said.

Dykes said he finger printed Laroche and sent the prints to the FBI.

"I don't know how he got his meals," Dykes said. "We found some half-rotten vegetables in the area."

Laroche looked well fed and is somewhat stocky, the sheriff said.

The hollow log had a flap over it, and Laroche had fashioned a shelter made of boards, sacks and a plastic covering.

"He told us all kinds of places he'd been," said the sheriff. "But he never sticks to one subject long enough for us to make sense of it."

Hitchcock Is Old Master of Suspense

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The one film maker whose movies never disappoint me when rerun on TV is Alfred Hitchcock, the old master of suspense.

We're discussing Hitchcock the movie producer here rather than Hitchcock the TV producer. While his CBS-TV Sunday evening drama program maintains a high level of entertainment, half an hour is usually too short a time span for his special talents.

These reflections are prompted by viewing "Suspicion"—not the NBC-TV Monday evening program, but the movie starring Cary Grant and Joan Fontaine which Hitchcock made in 1941 and in which Miss Fontaine won an Oscar.

Anyone trying to write TV suspense dramas could not go to a better school than the file of Hitchcock's old films. When he studied "Suspicion" he'd be struck by his basic simplicity of plot, its downright fragility of setting.

It's the story of a timid, near-sighted English heiress played by Miss Fontaine who falls in love with and marries a wastrel played by Grant. He's a gambler, a no-account —, but charming. She comes to believe that he is capable of murder; that he murdered his best friend and plans to murder her. He didn't — and doesn't. Quick 30-second happy ending.

Doesn't sound like much, does it? But it held me as has no TV suspense drama, live or filmed, which I've seen in months.

Miss Fontaine created genuine suspense simply by loving Grant and caring so much what happened to him; as a result you loved her and cared what happened to her. Grant created genuine suspense by displaying ambivalence toward good and evil; as a result you suspected him of evil when he was being good and hoped that he would turn out well when seemingly bad.

Spending, High Taxes Haunt Capitol Hill

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The spectre of deficit spending and continued high taxes haunted Capitol Hill today in the wake of President Eisenhower's peacetime record $73,000,000,000 federal budget proposal.

Congressional reaction, both public and private, was that the fiscal picture painted by the President in his annual budget message yesterday was anything but bright. But Congress had not expected a rosy report in the light of current defense needs.

There was little doubt that Congress would approve all or most of the $73,000,000,000 outlay for the Defense Department. More argument was expected over non-defense spending proposals in an effort to widen the narrow gap between expected spending and expected revenue during the coming fiscal year.

Even as it put the finishing touches on an emergency $1,200,000,000 defense fund, a House Defense Appropriations subcommittee called hearings for Jan. 27 on the military budget for the year starting July 1.

Subcommittee Chairman Mahon (D-Tex.) called the new military budget "conservative insofar as ballistic missiles and other weapons of the future are concerned."

It might even have to be increased, Mahon added.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) chairman of the Senate's Preparedness subcommittee, promised a careful look to "determine whether it is adequate to strengthen the nation's security."

The general attitude among the legislators appeared to be that so far as security is concerned, the sky is the limit.

As Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the full House Appropriations Committee put it: "All of the increase for national defense is fully justified and will have the support of Congress."

There was some skepticism over Eisenhower's estimate that despite heavier defense spending,

Kansas Should Again Start Winning

By ED WICKS, The Associated Press

Will the Still is back and Kansas is a winner again in college basketball.

It was as simple as that. The Jayhawks fell from the unbeaten list—and slipped from second to third in The Associated Press poll—with two-point defeats in two games while Will Chamberlain was ailing on the sidelines. But last night Will was back, playing the whole game and scoring 32 points as Kansas whipped Colorado 67-46 in Big Eight game.

Chamberlain's 32 points weren't enough to get back his lead in the individual scoring race, however.

Oscar Robertson was at it again for Cincinnati, earning 37 points as the 11th-ranked Bearcats ripped Houston 93-37 in a Missouri Valley Conference meeting.

Oscar, with 128 points in his last three games (starting with 30 more likely than an increase."

Rep. Reed of New York, senior Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee, also called the estimates of receipts "Somewhat optimistic."

As for the President's request to boost the rate for mailing out-crown letters from 3 to 5 cents, Chairman Johnson (D-SC) of the Senate Post Office Committee, called it "too much."

The House last year reluctantly voted to increase the rate to 4 cents.

Little was said about the President's request for an unspecified increase in the legal limit of the national debt, but in the main the legislators were resigned to approving the request as quickly as possible rather than delay it until just before this year's congressional elections.

WHILE CAR PRICES WENT UP THROUGHOUT THE INDUSTRY, THE PRICE OF THIS CAR WENT DOWN

Here's good news for people who are tired of reading about higher prices for 1958 cars: Ford has priced many of its new '58 models lower than corresponding 1957 models!

In fact, Ford Custom 300's are priced as much as $50 lower than last year. This is based on an actual comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices.

Who'd ever guess it's the lowest priced of the low-price three

In case you haven't yet gotten around to pricing this elegantly styled 58 Ford Custom 300, put your mind at ease. When you compare manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices, you'll find that this Ford is priced lower than any sedan in its field. And Ford has the lowest-priced station wagon and convertible, too!

But price isn't everything. The 58 Ford made history, too, as the first car ever to use the whole world as its test track! This meant taking the all-new Interceptor V-8, combining it with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive, and tackling some of the roughest roads we could find on three continents. This terrific power team (available with up to 300 hp) proved that it can handle any driving you'll ever have to do... while saving you up to 15% on gas! Start your savings for '58 with a lower-priced Ford!

Designed to give the official a wider view without getting in the way of the players, the experiment was labeled a success after a game between Los Angeles State and California State Poly.
Nebraska deposed the early season leader—Oklahoma—in a mild 37-34 upset.
In the only other game involving a Big Eight team, Iowa State defeated Drake 63-42 in a non-league outing at Des Moines.
